AMERICAN SOCIETY OF COMPOSERS, AUTHORS AND PUBLISHERS
THIRTY ROCKEFELLER PLAZA
NEW YORK CITY

February 6th, 1939
Number . . . .3000

Dear Member:

Enclosed with this communication we are sending your copy of your signed Renewal Agreement for your files.

On behalf of the Society, we wish to express our gratitude and it is our fervent wish that we will continue to grow in strength and prosperity in our objectives which are the protection of the creations of your brains and your copyrights in every possible way and to render you the service that we have in the past that no agency on earth could possibly render in looking after the public performing rights of your works in spite of the increasingly complex changes in the field of music, entertainment and education brought about through invention and the usage of your property.

You have my assurance that we shall try, with vision, understanding, fairness and dignity, to administer these rights as we have for a quarter of a century and I have only one wish -- that we shall continue to be blessed in all our undertakings, within and without the Society, with the view of protecting our members' interests.

With the Society's thanks and my kind personal regards,

Faithfully yours,

AMERICAN SOCIETY OF COMPOSERS,
AUTHORS AND PUBLISHERS,

Gene Buck,
President.
